

GET ON TRACK

Checking out your job options? Ever thought about the community side of the job market? Might be time to take a look at Melbourne Citymission.

Brendan's Story: Brendan has worked at Melbourne Citymission for five years and likes waking up knowing that he is doing something that is not just "useful" but also "serves the greater good".

His first role was at the Frontyard office, working with homeless youth. At Frontyard, Brendan assisted people under twenty-five who were getting their lives back together. Learning about building relationships with people and organisations across the sector has been valuable for his current job.

After a stint overseas and a period running his own business, Brendan returned to Melbourne Citymission at the Slingshot Community Enterprise Employment Centre, where his role is to support young people to get their business ideas off the ground. For Brendan it's a dream job because it's inspiring to be around "people who are self-driven and working on amazing projects".

Brendan says that Melbourne Citymission is unlike any other place that he's worked at. "It's one of those organisations where your ideas are listened to and supported."

Melbourne Citymission is always on the lookout for others like Brendan who are passionate about working with people and want to take on jobs that benefit the community.

If you're looking at your job options and think you have what it takes to join Melbourne Citymission, we will assist you in:

- Developing yourself personally and professionally
- Exploring a variety of career options, seeking out new challenges or taking on further study
- Leading a balanced life and being part of your community

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT USING YOUR EMPATHY AND POSITIVE ATTITUDE TO HELP PEOPLE?

If you're positive and understanding, you could use these attributes to support individuals living with an intellectual disability to achieve their goals and participate in community life. Being part of Melbourne Citymission's residential support team will provide you with challenges, rewarding experiences and access to qualifications and career paths.

Experience or qualifications in disability work would be great, however a genuine interest may be all you need to get started.

DO YOU HAVE THE SKILLS AND PASSION TO HELP SOMEONE GET BACK ON TRACK?

We want people who can encourage, empower and assist individuals and families to regain control of their lives. If you're looking for a supportive, innovative workplace where you'll have opportunities for progression and growth, then a great career opportunity awaits you with our disability case management teams.

We are looking for graduates in a human services or psychology field, experienced workers within the Acquired Brain Injury field, or someone with experience in family or disability work looking for a new challenge.

DO YOU HAVE A BURNING DESIRE TO HELP YOUNG PEOPLE IN CRISIS?

If you do, this is a job that has opportunities that are not available in any other sector. We need people who are genuine about connecting with young people and making a positive difference in their lives. If you have strong communication skills and a willingness to challenge and be challenged, we'd like to talk to you about working with one of our residential youth services teams.

You will need a degree in Youth Work or a related field, or broad based experience working with young people.

To take a look at what's on, please call our HR team on 8625 4444, email ygreen@mcm.org.au or visit our website at www.melbournecitymission.org.au

Melbourne Citymission
Building Inclusive Communities

GET ON TRACK

Checking out your job options? Ever thought about the community side of the job market? Might be time to take a look at Melbourne Citymission.

Brendan's Story: Brendan has worked at Melbourne Citymission for five years and likes waking up knowing that he is doing something that is not just "useful" but also "serves the greater good".

His first role was at the Frontyard office, working with homeless youth. At Frontyard, Brendan assisted people under twenty-five who were getting their lives back together. Learning about building relationships with people and organisations across the sector has been valuable for his current job.

After a stint overseas and a period running his own business, Brendan returned to Melbourne Citymission at the Slingshot Community Enterprise Employment Centre, where his role is to support young people to get their business ideas off the ground. For Brendan it's a dream job because it's inspiring to be around "people who are self-driven and working on amazing projects".

Brendan says that Melbourne Citymission is unlike any other place that he's worked at. "It's one of those organisations where your ideas are listened to and supported."

Melbourne Citymission is always on the lookout for others like Brendan who are passionate about working with people and want to take on jobs that benefit the community.

If you're looking at your job options and think you have what it takes to join Melbourne Citymission, we will assist you in:

- Developing yourself personally and professionally
- Exploring a variety of career options, seeking out new challenges or taking on further study
- Leading a balanced life and being part of your community

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT USING YOUR EMPATHY AND POSITIVE ATTITUDE TO HELP PEOPLE?

If you're positive and understanding, you could use these attributes to support individuals living with an intellectual disability to achieve their goals and participate in community life. Being part of Melbourne Citymission's residential support team will provide you with challenges, rewarding experiences and access to qualifications and career paths.

Experience or qualifications in disability work would be great, however a genuine interest may be all you need to get started.

DO YOU HAVE THE SKILLS AND PASSION TO HELP SOMEONE GET BACK ON TRACK?

We want people who can encourage, empower and assist individuals and families to regain control of their lives. If you're looking for a supportive, innovative work-place where you'll have opportunities for progression and growth, then a great career opportunity awaits you with our disability case management teams.

We are looking for graduates in a human services or psychology field, experienced workers within the Acquired Brain Injury field, or someone with experience in family or disability work looking for a new challenge.

DO YOU HAVE A BURNING DESIRE TO HELP YOUNG PEOPLE IN CRISIS?

If you do, this is a job that has opportunities that are not available in any other sector. We need people who are genuine about connecting with young people and making a positive difference in their lives. If you have strong communication skills and a willingness to challenge and be challenged, we'd like to talk to you about working with one of our residential youth services teams.

You will need a degree in Youth Work or a related field, or broad based experience working with young people.

To take a look at what's on, please call our HR team on 8625 4444, email ygreen@mcm.org.au or visit our website at www.melbournecitymission.org.au

Melbourne Citymission
Building Inclusive Communities

GET ON TRACK

Checking out your job options? Ever thought about the community side of the job market? Might be time to take a look at Melbourne Citymission.

Brendan's Story: Brendan has worked at Melbourne Citymission for five years and likes waking up knowing that he is doing something that is not just "useful" but also "serves the greater good".

His first role was at the Frontyard office, working with homeless youth. At Frontyard, Brendan assisted people under twenty-five who were getting their lives back together. Learning about building relationships with people and organisations across the sector has been valuable for his current job.

After a stint overseas and a period running his own business, Brendan returned to Melbourne Citymission at the Slingshot Community Enterprise Employment Centre, where his role is to support young people to get their business ideas off the ground. For Brendan it's a dream job because it's inspiring to be around "people who are self-driven and working on amazing projects".

Brendan says that Melbourne Citymission is unlike any other place that he's worked at. "It's one of those organisations where your ideas are listened to and supported."

Melbourne Citymission is always on the lookout for others like Brendan who are passionate about working with people and want to take on jobs that benefit the community.

If you're looking at your job options and think you have what it takes to join Melbourne Citymission, we will assist you in:

- Developing yourself personally and professionally
- Exploring a variety of career options, seeking out new challenges or taking on further study
- Leading a balanced life and being part of your community

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT USING YOUR EMPATHY AND POSITIVE ATTITUDE TO HELP PEOPLE?

If you're positive and understanding, you could use these attributes to support individuals living with an intellectual disability to achieve their goals and participate in community life. Being part of Melbourne Citymission's residential support team will provide you with challenges, rewarding experiences and access to qualifications and career paths.

Experience or qualifications in disability work would be great, however a genuine interest may be all you need to get started.

DO YOU HAVE THE SKILLS AND PASSION TO HELP SOMEONE GET BACK ON TRACK?

We want people who can encourage, empower and assist individuals and families to regain control of their lives. If you're looking for a supportive, innovative work-place where you'll have opportunities for progression and growth, then a great career opportunity awaits you with our disability case management teams.

We are looking for graduates in a human services or psychology field, experienced workers within the Acquired Brain Injury field, or someone with experience in family or disability work looking for a new challenge.

DO YOU HAVE A BURNING DESIRE TO HELP YOUNG PEOPLE IN CRISIS?

If you do, this is a job that has opportunities that are not available in any other sector. We need people who are genuine about connecting with young people and making a positive difference in their lives. If you have strong communication skills and a willingness to challenge and be challenged, we'd like to talk to you about working with one of our residential youth services teams.

You will need a degree in Youth Work or a related field, or broad based experience working with young people.

To take a look at what's on, please call our HR team on 8625 4444, email ygreen@mcm.org.au or visit our website at www.melbournecitymission.org.au

Melbourne Citymission
Building Inclusive Communities